Gustafson Retracts Embezzling Charge

By JIM ADAMS
Editor

John Gustafson admitted publicly last night that charges of "misappropriation and probable embezzlement" filed last week against Young Republican Club Secretary Sharon Davis are unfounded. He apologized for making them. Gustafson formally filed charges in Student Court last Tuesday. He submitted a signed statement to the Spartan Daily last night reading:

"The charges are in error. I apologize to Sharon Davis."

The statement was submitted following a two and one-half hour special Student Council hearing yesterday afternoon into the charges and counter charges pressed by factions of the Young Republicans during the past week. The hearing was conducted by Pat McClenahan, ASB prosecuting attorney, and Roger Hamblin.

Gustafson told court members at the hearing that he filed charges without contacting club secretary Davis. He insisted it appeared to him at the time that the charges were justified. Yesterday he had changed his mind.

$15 TO PETTY FUND

He filed charges after learning that $15 collected for dues had not been deposited in the Student Affairs Business Office. It was

Cards Due For Mailing Of Diplomas

"Request to Mail Diploma" cards are now available in the Registrar's Office for students graduating in February.

Graduating students will be required to fill out the card and file it with the Registrar's Office to have their diplomas mailed to them approximately two weeks after commencement.

Dean Benz said the Registrar's Office has been unable to check graduating seniors' grades between the time that final exams are taken and the date of commencement.

'Mom' Pritchard Retires Feb. 1; Ends 16-1/2-Year College Career

By RON BATES

"Mom" Pritchard is "going home to clean the kitchen cupboards."

On Feb. 1, Mrs. Izetta Pritchard will officially go into retirement, ending a 16 and a half year stay at the college.

She first came to San Jose State in September of 1943 in the capacity of assistant to the dean of women.

In her most recent position of housing counselor, Mrs. Pritchard inspected and approved housing quarters for students and acted as a liaison between the householders and the students.

"When I first came to San Jose State," Mrs. Pritchard said, "there were 35 approved houses for girls at an average cost of $35 a month. Presently, there is a combined men's and women's housing total of 113 at an average cost of $65-$85 a month."

MANY GIFTS RECEIVED

The regard which both house-holders and students held for her is evidenced by the numerous cards, letters and gifts she has been receiving.

For 14 of the years she has spent at SJS, she served as adviser to the Associated Women Students from 1944 to 1957. During those years she was nicknamed "Mom."

Two people whom Mrs. Pritchard cited as influential and helpful during her stay were Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, and Joe H. West, dean of educational services and summer sessions and former dean of students.

"During the years she has been here, Mrs. Pritchard has always been most helpful to the students," Dean West said.

"She certainly will be missed," said Dean Benz. "Mrs. Pritchard was one of the most loyal persons I have ever worked with. Loyalty and sincerity are two terms that could be applied to her with capital letters."

A few years ago the college had a "householders' workshop." Various housing problems were discussed. It was a pioneering effort, and Mrs. Pritchard played a leading role in organizing it, Dean Benz commented.

RECEIVED MEMENTO

At a dinner given in her honor recently, Dean Benz presented her with a piece of the old Student Union. It looked like the top of one of the pillars and had a hole in the center.

"Use it as a vase," he advised jokingly.

The Grafton, Neb. native doesn't have any travel plans at present but hopes to make some trips after she "gets at those kitchen cupboards."

Rule for Guests

Faculty members may invite occasional student guests to dine with them in the Faculty Dining Room, according to a Faculty Council recommendation.

But faculty members should not invite groups of students into the dining room, the recommendation said.

Faculty advisers of larger student groups may reserve Cafeteria Rooms A and B for their meetings.

Publicity Jobs Open

Don Bryan, newly-appointed ASB public relations officer, announced yesterday that an assistant director and six committee members are needed for the Public Relations Committee.

The positions must be filled as soon as possible because of the expected publicity rush during next semester's registration and orientation programs.

Persons interested in committee positions or the assistant public relations officer post are urged to contact Mrs. Dorothy King, secretary, in the Student Activities Building.

Board Sends Editor Case To Court

The case of Gary Brown vs. the ASB Council was recommended to the Student Court yesterday by the Judicial Coordinating Board.

If the Student Court accepts the case, Brown will bring his charges to the legal body today at 2:30 p.m.

Brown filed a complaint with the Coordinating Board last week, charging that the ASB Council's appointment of Mike Johnson as Spartan Daily editor was unconstitutional.

He charged that Johnson was not officially nominated for the job by the staff adviser and did not run in a preferential staff balloting.

Brown agreed to waive time in the case and waived rights of subpoena. Otherwise the case would have to go through a judicial review and a preliminary hearing before going to trial. This would have meant nearly a month's wait.

Brown, now serving as Spartan Daily sports editor, will request a constitutional hearing by the court. This means he will be able to present only factual material and no arguments.

The plaintiff will not use a court-appointed attorney-at-large because of the time element. He will be represented by Ron Miller, newly-appointed Lyke Magazine editor and Student Court reporter for the past semester.

The ASB Council will be defended by Prosecuting Attorney Pat McClenahan. McClenahan successfully defended the ASB in the precedent-setting Spartan Y trial in December.

If the hearing is accepted by the Student Court, it will be open to the student body. The hearing will take place in the new Student Activities Building.

Impressionist Plays Tonight

Last performance of two student-produced impressionistic dramas will be given tonight at 8:15 in the Studio Theater. Admission is 50 cents.

The two plays are "Loves of Dan Perlimpin and Belisa in the Garden," by Federico Garcia Lorca, the famous Spanish playwright, and "The Bald Soprano," by Eugene Ionesco.

The cast for the two dramas is drawn from the rehearsal and performance class. Danny Zanvettor, Louise Englehardt, Carolyn Reed, Linda Gabberty, Clark Mires, Merle Watts, Richard Parks and Gary Hamner are featured.

The play by Lorca deals with love and its effect on a man and woman, and Ionesco's lighter drama is a satire of the 1800 drawing room plays.

Special music for "The Bald Soprano" has been written by Danny Zanvettor and Merle Watts.

IKE PROMISES SURPLUS BUDGET
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower yesterday sent an openly skeptical Congress a "pay our own way" budget providing for the fastest surplus in 13 years and looking toward possible tax cuts in a year or two. Many congressmen bluntly questioned his forecast of a $4 billion 184 million surplus since he based it in part on an increase in postal rates and gasoline taxes. He also proposed cancellation of scheduled cuts in telephone and travel taxes in submitting his $79 billion 816 million budget.

UAR GETS SOVIET TECHNICAL AID
CAIRO (UPI)—Russia has agreed to help the United Arab Republic complete the construction of the entire Aswan High Dam on the Nile, it was announced last night.

An exchange of letters between UAR Pres. Gamal Abdel Nasser and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev provided the agreement that the Soviets will give financial and technical help on the second stage of the dam in addition to the 100 million dollars in Russian aid already provided for the first stage.

Industrial Arts Department In Big Move During Break

Industrial Arts is poised for a massive between-semester move into its new $2 million-plus building at the corner of Ninth and San Fernando Sts.

State building inspectors are expected to finish with routine inspection of the "custom-made" building today. This will clear the way for the moving operation scheduled to begin during finals.

The major part of the move should be completed by the start of spring semester, said Dean Robert J. Moore, acting department head.

A system of labeling equipment has been devised to make the 20-yard hop to the campus' northeast corner. The actual moving will be done by contracted movers. In addition to present equipment, $535,000 worth of new equipment will be installed.

The two-story, E-shaped building is "very near the ultimate" for industrial arts, said Dean Moore. It is specially designed for IA functions, he said, a feature uncommon in most IA buildings.

FOR INDUSTRIOUS ARTS—New $2 million-plus Industrial Arts Building will be occupied next semester. Huge moving project will begin during finals, taking equipment from the department's old building facing Seventh Street.

And Test Standards Low

'English A Program Not Too Successful'

Editor's Note: This is the second of a three-part feature on the low English proficiency of entering freshmen, half of whom must take the English A course.

By ROBERT TAYLOR

There are now nearly 1200 SJS students taking English A. Are English entrance test requirements too high?

They aren't, according to the man in charge of the college's English A program, Dr. Glenn A. Reed, professor of English.

"For the minimum standard we use the average of students at third-rate colleges in the nation," he said. Half the entering freshmen fail the test, and a third of those who take the English A class fail it, too.

"Our problem is not getting any better," he said. "We're failing about the same number of students as we were 10 years ago."

How successful is the college's English A program?

NOT BIG SUCCESS
"I don't claim it's very successful," Dr. Reed answered. "If they come weak in language, they stay weak in language—you can't do too much in one semester."

The college is still examining the results of a questionnaire answered by freshmen taking the English A test a few years ago. "There is a very high degree of correlation between the amount of writing in high school and success in passing the test," Dr. Reed said.

There is also a relation between writing under pressure (classroom essays, etc.) and success in passing the test, he added.

H.S. WEAKNESS

"There are serious weaknesses in high school training, but this is also true in elementary school," Dr. Reed warned.

Dr. Reed gave three methods of improving the English proficiency of students before they get to college. They coincided almost perfectly with solutions offered by most other observers:

—"You have to cut down the size of classes," he said. It is impossible for teachers to analyze essays very often when they handle close to 200 students, he added.

—English classes are becoming a "dumping ground" for much high school training. "We must make sure that the content of English is English—not narcotics or orientation or driver education," he said.

—English teachers should be English majors in college. P.E. majors, with little English training, may be pressed into service as English instructors in high schools.

Russ Expert To Address Y

A specialist in Russian education will lecture on "Where Is Civilization Going?" at the Spartan Y, Thursday, Jan. 28, at 3:30 p.m.

Author and educator Scott Nearling of the Social Science Institute, Harborside, Maine, will speak on the educational and social trends of the world today.

The present IA building will become part of the Corporation Yard.

The building has about 111,000 square feet of space. Empty except for shelves, cabinets, light fixtures and electrical outlets jutting from the floors or hanging from the ceilings, the laboratories appear extremely large. The old IA building would fit comfortably in a couple of the large labs.

Until the IA Department is completely settled in the building, which Dr. Moore says will probably take one to two semesters, the building will be partially occupied by classes from other departments.

Specially designed and equipped ceramics and sculpture facilities on the second floor were called by Dean Moore, "the best on the West Coast."

A General Elementary IA activities classroom is another "second to none" special lab for general education students.

Tentative plans are being formed for a public open house at the new building, but no date has been set.

AAUP Meet

The American Association of University Professors will meet at 12:30 p.m. today in Cafeteria Room A.

Retiring president Dr. Henry C. Meckel, professor of education and English, will review the past year and discuss coming activities. His topic will be "AAUP and the Future."

Dr. Marion T. Bird, professor of mathematics and recently-elected president of the San Jose State chapter, will preside at the business meeting.

Medical Plan Offered Again

A $10 premium per semester will protect any regularly enrolled student against most major illnesses, a California Physicians Services spokesman said yesterday.

The CPS volunteer health plan for San Jose State students will again be offered during registration, and Dr. Thomas J. Gray, head of the Student Health Service, said the plan is an excellent supplement to the out-patient program here.

The health insurance program covers hospital, X-ray and laboratory work, surgery, out-patient medical care, and doctor's visits to the hospital.

Dr. Gray said the health plan is operative at all times during the semester and covers illnesses beyond the scope of the Student Health Service. The plan also covers students during school recesses.

ROOS/ATKINS

Weapon Deserves Attention

A group of San Francisco lawyers last week formed a vigilante committee to fight a vigilante committee in the field of obscene literature.

The lawyers call themselves the "Freedom to Read Citizen's Committee" and their main purpose is to campaign against Attorney Molly Minudri's "Vigilante Committee for Decent Literature."

The Freedom to Read group should be lauded for its efforts.

A campaign to clean up the newsstands looms as a dangerous threat to the basic American freedoms of press and speech. Although no group, city official, or police chief can legally say what can be put on or taken off the newsstands without due process of law, an economic boycott could possibly successfully effect a censorship.

If the boycott is successful, who can guarantee that the censorship will stop there?

Such a pressure group could force city officials to pass censorship laws that eventually would cause an abridgement of our basic freedoms.

Who is qualified to say what is bad and what is good? Shall we turn the task to city and government officials? That was tried in Germany two decades ago with disastrous results.

—R.D.B.

In Beholder's Eyes

Russia's "formidable, fantastic" new weapon deserves more attention than it has received—and especially by college students.

We remember when the first sputnik went up in the fall of 1957. It was greeted by SJS students with a kind of nervous laugh and the feeling that the bumbling politicians in Washington were responsible.

The launching of sputnik has affected American education—and therefore San Jose State—more than has any other single event in the century.

And the "fantastic" new weapon Khrushchev is hiding in his closet may prove even more formidable. Draft-age collegians especially should keep their eyes trained on this new project.

Student Art Shows Usher In Semester

The third annual juried Student Art Show, sponsored by Alpha Gamma and Delta Phi Delta and open to all students, will be the first exhibit of the next semester in the art gallery. The exhibit will be shown from Feb. 9 to 19.

Entries will be accepted in the art gallery Feb. 4 and 5 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Charge is 50 cents for three entries; entries are limited to three in a division.

Divisions will be: painting and mixed media; prints and drawings; ceramics and sculpture; and jewelry and crafts.

All classwork must be released by one's instructor; release cards may be picked up from the Alpha Gamma bulletin board.

Entries not accepted in the show may be claimed Feb. 9 in A112 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or with the accepted entries Feb. 22 and 23 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The tentative schedule of exhibits in the SJS Art Gallery next semester is as follows:

Feb. 9 to 19—Third Annual Student Art Show.

Feb. 28 to March 30—Festival of Arts Exhibition.

April 5 to 29—Contemporary Prints from Yugoslavia.

May 4 to 18—California Watercolor Society Show (tentative).

A Student Teacher Exhibition of classroom art done by junior high and high school students is on display in A135. All types of arts and crafts are included in the exhibit. Drawings are exceptional.

Student teachers affiliated with the display are John Quigley, Tim Saska, Mary Rowe, Marjorie Shull, Emi Furumoto, Thomas Dibble, Harry Bridges and Dorothy Hines.

Twenty tickets will go on sale today by the Humanities Club for Sir Thomas Beecham's "Lolipops" concert Feb. 14 when the famed conductor will present a program of encores.

Tickets for the concert will be on sale from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in TH55 only to Humanities Club members. The group will leave by bus at noon on Feb. 14 for the 2 p.m. concert.

After tomorrow, tickets will be available from Marleen Van Horn, CY 5-9491.

Another event scheduled for next semester by the club is an "Albert Camus Evening" March 10 from 8 to 10 in TH55. According to Joan Winsor, publicity chairman, the group expects to have a discussion of Camus' works by a panel of professors, a group discussion following, and perhaps readings from Camus' plays.

The jewel-toned "stained glass" windows in the library stairwell will be taken down today by their designers and artists—students in Miss Anna Ballarín's Design 12A class.

"The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," starring Joan Blondell, will be presented Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the San Jose Civic Auditorium. It will be the only performance in San Jose.

William Inge, the playwright, is considered with Tennessee Williams and Arthur Miller to be one of America's greatest playwrights.

Tickets are available at the auditorium box office daily from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Orchesis, the co-educational dance performance group, will perform in three programs next semester. The first will be an Orchesis benefit in College Theater March 11 at 8:15 p.m. More than 25 members will perform a group of compositions created by dance faculty members.

Selections from "Cinderella" also will be performed at the benefit.

Orchesis will perform "Cinderella" March 25 in Civic Auditorium with the San Jose Civic Symphony Orchestra. Approximately 25 men and women students will participate in this free program—a repeat invitation. Last year the group appeared with the orchestra in selections from "Bartered Bride."

On May 10 and 11 the dance group will appear at 8:15 p.m. in Concert Hall for its first performance with the San Jose State Symphony Orchestra when the Music Department presents its annual Spring Concert.

Five women from Orchesis and the orchestra will perform Truman Fisher's "Theme and Variations for Orchestra and Dancers." Mr. Fisher is the brother of Mrs. Carol Smith, instructor in physical education, and an adviser to Orchesis.

The program will be free and open to the public.

Orchesis, a branch of WAA, is open to all students. Practice sessions are Wednesday evenings at 7. Any student may join the group at any regular meeting, according to Joan Winsor, publicity chairman.

Glove Showing Pleases Coach

By GREGORY H. BROWN

Julie Menendez was pleased with his pugilists' showing Saturday night at the Civic Auditorium but the balding fight coach refuses to predict another NCAA title for his Spartans this early in the season.

"I would say we have the potential to be as good as last year, but knowing some of the kids we will have to face, it's hard to conclude anything right now," he said.

GOOD CONDITION

The Spartans' impressive 6-3 triumph over a well-seasoned group of Marines from San Diego was attributed to the "good fighting condition" the State gladiators were in, according to Menendez. This was State's first meet while their opponents were on the canvas for the fourth time.

"Those Marines had some real good boys and were well-conditioned," said Menendez.

Harry Campbell, freshman boxing sensation who decked James Blackshear, a top notch 132 lb. prospect, turned in the best performance of the night with a TKO win.

NOT ELIGIBLE

"Campbell, as a freshman, is not eligible as a varsity boxer in dual meets against colleges," frowned Julie, "but I hope to give him some exhibition bouts during our meets and eventually enter him in the Olympic trials."

Bahman Shoghi, Iran's answer to Rocky Marciano, drew applausive from Menendez. Shoghi found the range on his opponent repeatedly and came away with a 30-26 decision. Menendez indicated that he may drop the Iranian strongboy into the 132 lb. class in some bouts. Steve Kubas was mentioned as another prospect for the 132 lb. vacant class.

Semester graduation will present Menendez with a solid 175-lb. contender in Peter Schwindt, a junior college transfer.

TOUGH HURDLES

As he stood watching a couple of his battlers sparring in the ring, Julie pointed out that there are "several top notch contenders" his boys will have to hurdle to gain an unprecedented third NCAA title.

The Spartans will box Cal Poly in their next engagement on Feb. 13. Next home appearance will be on Feb. 18 against the U. of Nevada and the following week against the U. of Wisconsin.

V-Ball Team Finish Last

The two Spartan volleyball teams entered in the Alameda Naval Air Station tourney last weekend came in seventh and last in their worst showing of the season.

The "B" team came in seventh playing the same teams as the "A" team. Enroute to their position, they defeated Fresno YMCA and the Oakland Naval Air Station.

Setter Dave Mathis and spikers Ron Duran and Roger McCandless did most of the damage for the "B" team.

Newcomers Bill Purkiss, Russ Murphy, Irwin Johnson and Ray Christiansen played well and will be assets to the team in following meets.

The "A" team was eliminated after the first six games as they lost two out of three each to the Sacramento YMCA and the Embarcadero YMCA.

Coach McCandless listed three reasons why defeat came so easily. "Inconsistent sets by Tom Nilsson and Dave Hardwicke, poor blocking and generally poor court covering were the primary reasons for our bad showing," said McCandless.

The young coach was quick to mention that the calibre of teams the Spartans have been playing are well organized and established teams.

The next meet for the Spartans is against the Stockton YMCA on Feb. 6, in Stockton.

Roach Shines For Swimmers

Continuing with a rundown of Coach Tom O'Neill's swim team is a probable lineup of the butterfly, breast, individual medley and diving events as follows:

1959 State College winner Mike Roach makes a return appearance in the butterfly. With another year's experience tacked on to his record, Roach is ready for an all-out assault on his pet event.

Phil Jones, from Long Beach City College, and the talented Bob Wegman will aide Roach in the butterfly.

One of the only weak events on the team is the breaststroke. Bob Lim, Paul Yancey and Doug Hart are the three men vying for the starting position.

Yancey, the top boxer in the 23rd Annual Novice Tournament, is reputed to be a fine breaststroker from Sacramento.

In the individual medley, Roach and Wegman are joined by newcomer Austin Wiswell for the top spot.

Gayle Pinkney is the lone representative in the diving event.

Cincy Cage Lead Cut by California

By EARL WRIGHT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Coach Pete Newell's defense-minded California Golden Bears moved within eight points of the top-ranked Cincinnati Bearcats yesterday in United Press International's major college basketball ratings.

Cincinnati, which suffered its first defeat of the season last Saturday night when it bowed at Bradley, 91-90, received 18 first-place votes and 326 points.

BEARS GAIN

California, which scored an impressive, 79-39 home triumph over Washington that night, remained second but closed in on Cincinnati. Newell's team received 13 first-place votes and 318 points in the closest voting of the campaign. The ballots were based on games played through last Saturday.

West Virginia remained third in the latest balloting by the 35 leading coaches who rate the major schools for UPI. The Mountaineers received two first-place votes and 255 points. Bradley, which hasn't lost at home in its last 31 tries, advanced from fifth to fourth.

Villanova, beaten for the first time Saturday night when it bowed at West Virginia, 89-81, was the only newcomer in the top 10. The Pennsylvania school moved up from 12th. St. Louis slipped from 10th to 14th.

North Carolina headed the second 10 group for the second straight week. Then came Utah State, Iowa, St. Louis, Kentucky, Illinois, Notre Dame, Kansas, Indiana, Southern Methodist, St. Joseph's (Pa.) and New York University. The last three teams tied for 20th.

Each coach on the rating board selects 10 teams in the order he ranks them nationally. This week's ballots were based on games played through Saturday night. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7, etc. basis for votes from first through 10th place.

EACH LOSES ONE

Each of the four top-ranked teams has lost one game. Cincinnati has a 13-1 record, California is 14-1, West Virginia 15-1 and Bradley 12-1.

| TEAM | Points |
|----------------------------|--------|
| Cincinnati (18) (13-1) | 326 |
| California (13) (14-1) | 318 |
| West Virginia (2) (15-1) | 255 |
| Bradley (2) (12-1) | 239 |
| Ohio State (11-2) | 211 |
| Georgia Tech (13-1) | 125 |
| Utah (13-2) | 71 |
| Texas A & M (11-1) | 57 |
| Villanova (10-1) | 55 |
| Southern California (11-5) | 52 |

North Carolina, 50; Utah State, 41; Iowa, 28; St. Louis, 18; Kentucky, 14; Illinois, 11; Notre Dame, 9; Kansas, 8; Indiana, 6; Southern Methodist, St. Joseph's (Pa.) and N.Y. University, 5 each.

Others: Iowa State, 4; Dayton and Kansas State, 3 each; South Carolina and St. Bonaventure, 2 each; Stanford and Louisville, 1 each.

SPARTAN DAILY—3

Spartan Matmen Awaiting Indians

San Jose State's varsity wrestlers, still smarting from a 17-8 defeat at the hands of a strong Cal Poly squad, take on the Stanford Indians tonight at 7:30 on the Spartan mats.

Varsity mat coach Hugh Mumby credits Stanford with having "their best team in recent years," and they should be a good match for the Spartans.

The Indian grapplers were defeated by Cal Poly earlier last week by a score similar to that which the Mustangs posted over the Spartans.

Tomorrow night the freshman wrestlers meet Modesto J.C. here at 7:30.

German Club Elects Officers

The German Club elected officers for the spring semester at a meeting Friday night.

The new officers are Jarrett Lange, president; Bob McClennan, vice president; Peter Klose, secretary; Joan Damm, treasurer; and Ernst Buder, sergeant-at-arms.

Dr. Joachim Stenzel, assistant professor of German, will replace Dr. Theodore Verhaaren, who has served as adviser of the German Club since 1947.

India Lecture Tonight

"India, a Critical Nation" will be the subject of a lecture at 7:30 tonight at the Horace Mann School by Dr. Marshall Windmiller of the Institute of East Asiatic Studies of the University of California.

Dr. James Jacobs, SJS personnel counselor, is moderator of the symposium series.

Dr. Windmiller's speech will deal mainly with the dangers of Communism in India. He will discuss India's position in world affairs on the question of neutrality.

The lecturer has traveled extensively in Europe and the Near East.

During World War II, he served in the Army signal corps in India. Following his separation from the service he attended College of the Pacific in Stockton, where he received a B.A. in 1948.
